In the Knights of Columbus hall last evening, Mr. and Mrs. John Perantoni of Third street, who were married in Barre in the afternoon, were given a wedding reception by a company of nearly 150 people. R. E. Henderson of Wells River, proprietor of the Pavilion theatre, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Mr. Henderson is now managing the Old Comique theatre in Montpelier, a place of amusement really which he owns. He succeeds R. E. McIntyre, who with Mrs. McIntyre, has gone to Boston to assume the management of a moving-picture house.

Jame Suple, a South Barre man, who was arrested by Officer John S. Murley last night, pleaded guilty to a subsequent offense when arraigned before Magistrate H. W. Scott in city court this forenoon.

Suple's reply to a request for a disclosure was the favorite "stranger" story in tabloid form. Magistrate Scott imposed a $15 fine and costs of $6.50, which the respondent was unable to pay. He will serve the alternative sentence of 75 days in the county jail.

Plans for the annual banquet of the Dartmouth association of Vermont, to be held in Hotel Barre to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, are quite complete. Covers are to be laid for 80 graduates of the Hanover institution, although it is possible that the attendance will be larger. Having resigned his position at the block, Mr. French has shipped his household goods to Groton. His daughter, Mrs. Forbes, and her two children are visiting in Northfield and Randolph preparatory to going to Groton to reside. It is expected that J. E. Roberts will arrive in the city to-morrow to assume the janitorship of the Blanchard building. He will move his family to this city.

Barre granite's susceptibility to the art of the carver is shown effectively in a rock-faced memorial erected over the remains of John Bunney, the famous movie comedian, in Evergreen cemetery at Brooklyn, N. Y. Native stone was used in shaping the monument by the Venetti Granite Co. of West Second street, who cut the memorial for Peter Cole, a Brooklyn retailer. The die panel is relieved by some very artistic carving, the inscription being "Bunney." On one of the markers appears the inscription, "John H. Bunney, 1863-1914." The monument was set in position only a short time ago, but many comments on its appearance have already been found in print.

March Has Arrived

Time that you were selecting your spring apparel—selecting cloths and styles. This coming season is unlike any that you have ever known. It will be some time before you can realize conditions of the Dry Goods market. You will do well to select early. Not one single thing in our whole store that costs the same as last season, very few prices have been marked up. How long do you expect that we can keep old prices? Not long! There is no store in Vermont better prepared than we are. Our next winter's Sweaters are all on the way—lots of other kinds the same way. Will have to borrow lots of money to carry these goods along. Who gets the benefit? You, more than we do. See the following this week.

Wash Goods

Buying early means something this year. It means just this:

One-half of the spring styles that we are showing now could not be duplicated later.

We will have plenty of goods all of the season—lots that we have now we won't have later.

Your selection early will mean more to you when you realize later that you have acted wisely by making an early purchase.

Endurance Cloth—one of our best. This has taken the place of 12½ Gingham. These for a short time at the old price—12½c. Later, they will have to be 15c or more.

Devonshire Cloths have advanced. We will sell these for a few days longer at the old price, 18c per yard. Send for samples.

Burton Brothers' Reception Voile—a new line of styles. These for a short time at the old price—25c per yard.

New Winner Voiles in over 20 different styles. These are very new, better than Holly Batiste; would be cheap at 15c. Our price to start these new cloths is 12½c per yard.

New 36-inch Irish Poplins. These, on account of coloring, will be hard to get a little later.

Awning Stripes will be good for skirts and suits. These at 25c per yard.

New Beach Cloth in covered patterns at 25c per yard.

Yard-wide Fashion Silks, one of our best values, at 39c.

Silk Stripe Organdies, very new and pretty. These at 45c per yard.

Forty-five-inch Ramie Linen in Red, Pink, Light Blue, Brown and Heliotrope; suiting weight; no more at this price—jobbers are sold out. Price, 60c per yard.

New Yard-Wide Satin Crepe in Blue and Heliotrope. This is one of our best buys at 50c per yard. Send for samples—we pay the delivery charges.

Bargain Basement

Goods that you buy here will allow you quite a saving. The following are a few of our specials in this department:

The rehearsal of the Montpelier Choral society Tuesday evening was well attended, taxing the capacity of the library hall, and was the best in point of results thus far. Mr. Coffin complimented all sections of the chorus upon their progress, which exceeded that of any previous February, in his opinion. Twelve new members were added, making an increase of 61 in the last three weeks, with promise for other members next week. The chorus now has the best baritone section that it has ever had and there are more tenors at the present time than at the end of last year's season. Mr. Coffin expressed himself as much pleased with the increase in membership, especially from Barre.
